Licensure by the Endorsement Process

(mobility into these states by endorsement may be possible)

June 11, 2010

NOTE: Established practitioners in one state seeking licensure in another state MAY already have met licensure requirements in jurisdictions other than those indicated on this map. You should contact the licensing board in the state(s) where you wish to practice to determine if any additional education/testing/or experience are required before you may be granted a license. This does not include AL, AR, FL, KS, LA, MS, NM, NC, and OK, (and sometimes WV and WY) where additional testing is required of all candidates for licensure – new grads as well as established practitioners.
